Investment Options

Before investing in any mutual fund, consider the investment objectives, risks, charges, and expenses. Contact Fidelity for a mutual fund prospectus or, if available, a summary prospectus containing this information. Read it carefully.

Here is a list of investment options for AAFES 401(k) Retirement Savings Plan. For up-to-date performance information and other fund specifics, go to www.401k.com.

Description of Investment Options

AB Discovery Growth Fund Class I

VRS Code: 894309

Fund Objective: The investment seeks long-term growth of capital.

Fund Strategy: The fund invests primarily in a diversified portfolio of equity securities with relatively smaller capitalizations as compared to the overall U.S. market. Under normal circumstances, the fund invests at least 80% of its net assets in the equity securities of small- and mid-capitalization companies. For these purposes, "small- and mid-capitalization companies" are generally those companies that, at the time of investment, fall within the lowest 25% of the total U.S. equity market capitalization (excluding, for purposes of this calculation, companies with market capitalizations of less than $10 million).

Fund Risk: Growth stocks can perform differently from the market as a whole and can be more volatile than other types of stocks. The securities of smaller, less well-known companies can be more volatile than those of larger companies. Stock markets are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, economic or other developments. These risks may be magnified in foreign markets. Additional risk information for this product may be found in the prospectus or other product materials, if available.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking the potential for long-term share-price appreciation.
- Someone who is willing to accept the generally greater price volatility associated both with growth-oriented stocks and with smaller companies.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.
- The analysis on these pages may be based, in part, on adjusted historical returns for periods prior to the class's actual inception of 03/01/2005. These calculated returns reflect the historical performance of the oldest share class of the fund, with an inception date of 07/07/1938, adjusted to reflect the fees and expenses of this share class (when this share class's fees and expenses are higher.) Please refer to a fund's prospectus for information regarding fees and expenses. These adjusted historical returns are not actual returns. Calculation methodologies utilized by Morningstar may differ from those applied by other entities, including the fund itself.

American Funds The Growth Fund of America® Class R-6

VRS Code: 885043

Fund Objective: The investment seeks growth of capital.

Fund Strategy: The fund invests primarily in common stocks and seeks to invest in companies that appear to offer superior opportunities for growth of capital. It may invest up to 25% of its assets in securities of issuers domiciled outside the United States. The investment adviser uses a system of multiple portfolio managers in managing the fund's assets. Under this approach, the portfolio of the fund is divided into segments managed by individual managers.

Fund Risk: Growth stocks can perform differently from the market as a whole and can be more volatile than other types of stocks. Stock markets are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, economic or other developments. These risks may be magnified in foreign markets. Additional risk information for this product may be found in the prospectus or other product materials, if available.

Fidelity Freedom® 2010 Fund Class K

Fund Objective: Seeks high total return until its target retirement date. Thereafter, the fund's objective will be to seek high current income and, as a secondary objective, capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Designed for investors who anticipate retiring in or within a few years of the fund's target retirement year at or around age 65. Investing in a combination of Fidelity U.S. equity funds, international equity funds, bond funds, and short-term funds (underlying Fidelity funds). Allocating assets among underlying Fidelity funds according to a "neutral" asset allocation strategy that adjusts over time until it reaches an allocation similar to that of the Freedom Income Fund approximately 10 to 19 years after the target year. Ultimately, the fund will merge with the Freedom Income Fund. Fidelity Management & Research Company LLC (the Adviser) may modify the fund's neutral asset allocations from time to time when in the interests of investors. Buying and selling futures contracts (both long and short positions) in an effort to manage cash flows efficiently, remain fully invested, or facilitate asset allocation. Through an active asset allocation strategy, the Adviser may increase or decrease asset class exposures relative to the neutral asset allocations by up to 10 percentage points for equity, bond and short-term funds to reflect the Adviser's market outlook, which is primarily focused on the intermediate term.

Fund Risk: Investment performance of the Fidelity Freedom Fund products depends on the performance of the underlying investment options and on the proportion of the assets invested in each underlying investment option. The investment risk of each Fidelity Freedom Fund changes over time as its asset allocation changes. These risks are subject to the asset allocation decisions of the Investment Adviser. Pursuant to the Adviser's ability to use an active asset allocation strategy, investors may be subject to a different risk profile compared to the fund's neutral asset allocation strategy shown in its glide path. The funds are subject to the volatility of the financial markets, including that of equity and fixed income investments in the U.S. and abroad, and may be subject to risks associated with investing in high-yield, small-cap, commodity-linked and foreign securities. Leverage can increase market exposure, magnify investment risks, and cause losses to be realized more quickly. No target date fund is considered a complete retirement program and there is no guarantee any single fund will provide sufficient retirement income at or through retirement. Principal invested is not guaranteed at any time, including at or after the funds' target dates.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking an investment option intended for people in or very near retirement and who is willing to accept the volatility of diversified investments in the market.
- Someone who is seeking a diversified mix of stocks, bonds, and short-term investments in one investment option or who does not feel comfortable making asset allocation choices over time.

The investment risk of each Fidelity Freedom Fund changes over time as its asset allocation changes. These risks are subject to the asset allocation decisions of the Investment Adviser. Pursuant to the Adviser's ability to use an active asset allocation strategy, investors may be subject to a different risk profile compared to the fund's neutral asset allocation strategy shown in its glide path. The funds are subject to the volatility of the financial markets, including that of equity and fixed income investments in the U.S. and abroad, and may be subject to risks associated with investing in high-yield, small-cap, commodity-linked and foreign securities. Leverage can increase market exposure, magnify investment risks, and cause losses to be realized more quickly. No target date fund is considered a complete retirement program and there is no guarantee any single fund will provide sufficient retirement income at or through retirement. Principal invested is not guaranteed at any time, including at or after the funds' target dates.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking an investment option that gradually becomes more conservative over time and who is willing to accept the volatility of the markets.
- Someone who is seeking a diversified mix of stocks, bonds, and short-term investments in one investment option or who does not feel comfortable making asset allocation choices over time.

Footnotes:

Fidelity Freedom® 2060 Fund Class K

VRS Code: 003031

Fund Objective: Seeks high total return until its target retirement date. Thereafter, the fund's objective will be to seek high current income and, as a secondary objective, capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Designed for investors who anticipate retiring in or within a few years of the fund's target retirement year at or around age 65. Investing in a combination of Fidelity U.S. equity funds, international equity funds, bond funds, and short-term funds (underlying Fidelity funds). Allocating assets among underlying Fidelity funds according to a "neutral" asset allocation strategy that adjusts over time until it reaches an allocation similar to that of the Freedom Income Fund approximately 10 to 19 years after the target year. Ultimately, the fund will merge with the Freedom Income Fund. Fidelity Management & Research Company LLC (the Adviser) may modify the fund's neutral asset allocations from time to time when in the interests of investors. Buying and selling futures contracts (both long and short positions) in an effort to manage cash flows efficiently, remain fully invested, or facilitate asset allocation. Through an active asset allocation strategy, the Adviser may increase or decrease asset class exposures relative to the neutral asset allocations by up to 10 percentage points for equity, bond and short-term funds to reflect the Adviser's market outlook, which is primarily focused on the intermediate term.

Fund Risk: Investment performance of the Fidelity Freedom Fund products depends on the performance of the underlying investment options and on the proportion of the assets invested in each underlying investment option. The investment risk of each Fidelity Freedom Fund changes over time as its asset allocation changes. These risks are subject to the asset allocation decisions of the Investment Adviser. Pursuant to the Adviser's ability to use an active asset allocation strategy, investors may be subject to a different risk profile compared to the fund's neutral asset allocation strategy shown in its glide path. Fidelity Freedom® Income Fund Class K

Fund Objective: Seeks high current income and, as a secondary objective, capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Investing in a combination of Fidelity U.S. equity funds, international equity funds, bond funds, and short-term funds (underlying Fidelity funds). Allocating assets among underlying Fidelity funds according to a stable "neutral" asset allocation strategy (approximately 11% in domestic U.S. equity funds, 8% in international equity funds, 43% in U.S. investment grade bond funds, 5% in international bond funds, 3% in long-term treasury bond funds, 20% in inflation-protected bond funds, and 10% in short-term funds) The Adviser may modify the fund's neutral asset allocations from time to time when in the interests of shareholders. Buying and selling futures contracts (both long and short positions) in an effort to manage cash flows efficiently, remain fully invested, or facilitate asset allocation. Through an active asset allocation strategy, the Adviser may increase or decrease asset class exposures relative to the neutral asset allocations by up to 10 percentage points for equity, bond and short-term funds to reflect the Adviser's market outlook, which is primarily focused on the intermediate term.

Fund Risk: The fund is subject to risks resulting from the asset allocation decisions of the Investment Adviser. Pursuant to the Adviser's ability to use an active asset allocation strategy, investors may be subject to a different risk profile compared to the fund's neutral asset allocation strategy shown in its glide path. The fund is subject to the volatility of the financial markets, including that of equity and fixed income investments. Fixed income investments entail issuer default and credit risk, inflation risk, and interest rate risk (as interest rates rise, bond prices usually fall and vice versa). This effect is usually more pronounced for longer-term securities. Leverage can increase market exposure, magnify investment risks, and cause losses to be realized more quickly. No target date fund is considered a complete retirement program and there is no guarantee any single fund will provide sufficient retirement income at or through retirement. Principal invested is not guaranteed at any time, including at or after the funds' target dates.

Fidelity® 500 Index Fund

VRS Code: 002328

Fund Objective: Seeks to provide investment results that correspond to the total return (i.e., the combination of capital changes and income) performance of common stocks publicly traded in the United States.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in common stocks included in the S&P 500 Index, which broadly represents the performance of common stocks publicly traded in the United States.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking the potential for long-term share-price appreciation.
- Someone who is seeking both growth- and value-style investments and who is willing to accept the volatility associated with investing in the stock market.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.
 - The S&P 500 Index is a market capitalization-weighted index of 500 common stocks chosen for market size, liquidity, and industry group representation to represent U.S. equity performance.
 - Returns prior to May 4, 2011 are those of the Premium Class and reflect the Premium Class' expense ratio. Had the Institutional Premium Class' expense ratio been reflected, total returns would have been higher.

Fidelity® Extended Market Index Fund

VRS Code: 002365

Fund Objective: Seeks to provide investment results that correspond to the total return stocks of mid- to small-capitalization United States companies.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in common stocks included in the Dow Jones U.S. Completion Total Stock Market Index, which represents the performance of stocks of mid- to small-capitalization U.S. companies.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Investments in smaller companies may involve greater risks than those in larger, more well known companies.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking the potential for long-term share-price appreciation.
- Someone who is seeking both growth- and value-style investments and who is willing to accept the generally greater volatility of investments in smaller companies.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.
 - The Dow Jones U.S. Completion Total Stock Market Index is an unmanaged index that represents all U.S. equity issues with readily available prices, excluding components of the S&P 500.

Fidelity® Government Money Market Fund Premium Class

VRS Code: 002741

Fund Objective: Seeks as high a level of current income as is consistent with preservation of capital and liquidity.

Fund Strategy: The Adviser normally invests at least 99.5% of the fund's total assets in cash, U.S. Government securities and/or repurchase agreements that are collateralized fully (i.e., collateralized by cash or government securities). Certain issuers of U.S. Government securities are sponsored or chartered by Congress but their securities are neither issued nor guaranteed by the U.S. Treasury. Investing in compliance with industry-standard regulatory requirements for money market funds for the quality, maturity, liquidity and diversification of investments. The Adviser stresses maintaining a stable $1.00 share price, liquidity, and income. In addition the Adviser normally invests at least 80% of the fund's assets in U.S. Government securities and repurchase agreements for those securities.

Fund Risk: You could lose money by investing in the fund. Although the fund seeks to preserve the value of your investment at $1.00 per share, it cannot guarantee it will do so. An investment in the fund is not a bank account and is not insured or guaranteed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or any other government agency. Fidelity Investments and its affiliates, the fund's sponsor, are not required to reimburse money market funds for losses, and you should not expect that the sponsor will provide financial support to the fund at any time, including during periods of market stress. Interest rate increases can cause the price of a money market security to decrease. A decline in the credit quality of an issuer or a provider of credit support or a maturity-shortening structure for a security can cause the price of a money market security to decrease. Fidelity's government and U.S. Treasury money market funds will not impose a fee upon the sale of your shares.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who has a low tolerance for investment risk and who wishes to keep the value of his or her investment relatively stable.
- Someone who is seeking to complement his or her bond and stock fund holdings in order to reach a particular asset allocation.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.
- Initial offering of Premium Class shares for Fidelity Government Money Market Fund was on 04/06/2015. Returns and expenses prior to that date are those of Fidelity Government Money Market Fund (SPAXX). Had Fidelity Government Money Market Fund - Premium Class expenses been reflected in the returns shown, total returns would have been higher.
- Fidelity is reimbursing a portion of the fund's expenses. If Fidelity had not, the returns would have been lower.

Fidelity® International Discovery Fund

VRS Code: 000305

Fund Objective: Seeks long-term growth of capital.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing primarily in non-U.S. securities. Normally investing primarily in common stocks.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks, all of which are magnified in emerging markets.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking to complement a portfolio of domestic investments with international investments, which can behave differently.
- Someone who is willing to accept the higher degree of risk associated with investing overseas.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.

Fidelity® Low-Priced Stock Fund

VRS Code: 000316

Fund Objective: Seeks capital appreciation.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing primarily in common stocks. Normally investing at least 80% of assets in low-priced stocks (those priced at or below $35 per share or with an earnings yield at or above the median for the Russell 2000 Index), which can lead to investments in small and medium-sized companies. Earnings yield represents a stock's earnings per share for the most recent 12-months divided by current price per share. Potentially investing in stocks not considered low-priced. Investing in domestic and foreign issuers. Investing in either "growth" stocks or "value" stocks or both. Using fundamental analysis of factors such as each issuer's financial condition and industry position, as well as market and economic conditions, to select investments.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. The securities of smaller, less well-known companies can be more volatile than those of larger companies.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking the potential for long-term share-price appreciation.
- Someone who is comfortable with value-style investments and the potentially greater volatility of investments in smaller companies.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.
 - The Russell 2000[®] Index is an unmanaged market capitalization-weighted index of 2,000 small company stocks of U.S. domiciled companies.

Fidelity[®] Puritan[®] Fund

VRS Code: 000004

Fund Objective: Seeks income and capital growth consistent with reasonable risk.

Fund Strategy: Investing approximately 60% of assets in stocks and other equity securities and the remainder in bonds and other debt securities, including lower-quality debt securities, when its outlook is neutral. Investing at least 25% of total assets in fixed-income senior securities (including debt securities and preferred stock). Engaging in transactions that have a leveraging effect on the fund.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Fixed income investments entail interest rate risk (as interest rates rise bond prices usually fall), the risk of issuer default, issuer credit risk and inflation risk. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. Lower-quality bonds can be more volatile and have greater risk of default than higher-quality bonds. Leverage can increase market exposure and magnify investment risk.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking to invest in a fund that invests in both stocks and bonds.
- Someone who is seeking the potential both for income and for long-term share-price appreciation and who is willing to accept the volatility of the bond and stock markets.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.

Fidelity[®] Real Estate Investment Portfolio

VRS Code: 000303

Fund Objective: Seeks above-average income and long-term capital growth, consistent with reasonable investment risk. The fund seeks to provide a yield that exceeds the composite yield of the S&P 500 Index.

Fund Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities of companies principally engaged in the real estate industry and other real estate related investments. Normally investing primarily in common stocks.

Fund Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. Changes in real estate values or economic downturns can have a significant negative effect on issuers in the real estate industry. The value of securities of issuers in the real estate industry can be affected by changes in real estate values and rental income, property taxes, interest rates, tax and regulatory requirements, and the management skill and creditworthiness of the issuer. The fund may have additional volatility because it can invest a significant portion of assets in securities of a small number of individual issuers.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is willing to accept the potentially lower diversification and higher risks associated with investing in a particular industry or sector.
- Someone who is seeking to complement his or her core holdings with investments concentrated in a particular sector or industry.

Footnotes:

JPMorgan Equity Income Fund Class IVRS Code: 821110Fund Objective: The investment seeks capital appreciation and current income.Fund Strategy: Under normal circumstances, at least 80% of the fund's assets will be invested in the equity securities of corporations that regularly pay dividends, including common stocks and debt securities and preferred securities convertible to common stock. "Assets" means net assets, plus the amount of borrowings for investment purposes. Although the fund invests primarily in securities of large cap companies, it may invest in equity investments of companies across all market capitalizations.Fund Risk: Value stocks can perform differently than other types of stocks and can continue to be undervalued by the market for long periods of time. Stock markets are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, economic or other developments. These risks may be magnified in foreign markets. Additional risk information for this product may be found in the prospectus or other product materials, if available.Fund short term trading fees: NoneWho may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking the potential for long-term share-price appreciation.
- Someone who is comfortable with the volatility of large-cap stocks and value-style investments.

Managed Income Portfolio II Class 1

VRS Code: 000633

Fund Objective: The fund seeks to preserve your principal investment while earning a level of interest income that is consistent with principal preservation. The fund seeks to maintain a stable net asset value (NAV) of $1 per share, but it cannot guarantee that it will be able to do so. The yield of the fund will fluctuate.

Fund Strategy: The fund invests in benefit-responsive investment contracts issued by insurance companies and other financial institutions ("Contracts"), fixed income securities, and money market funds. Under the terms of the Contracts, the assets of the fund are invested in fixed income securities (which may include, but are not limited to, U.S. Treasury and agency bonds, corporate bonds, mortgage-backed securities, commercial mortgage-backed securities, asset-backed securities, and collective investment vehicles and shares of investment companies that invest primarily in fixed income securities) and shares of money market funds. The fund may also invest in futures contracts, option contracts, and swap agreements. Fidelity Management Trust Company, as investment manager and trustee of the Fidelity Group Trust for Employee Benefit Plans, has claimed an exemption from registration under the Commodity Exchange Act and is not subject to registration or regulation under the Act. At the time of purchase, all Contracts and securities purchased for the fund must satisfy the credit quality standards specified in the Declaration of Separate Fund

Fund Risk: The Contracts and securities purchased for the fund are backed solely by the financial resources of the issuers of such Contracts and securities. An investment in the fund is not insured or guaranteed by the manager(s), the plan sponsor, the trustee, the FDIC, or any other government agency. The Contracts purchased by the fund permit the fund to account for the fixed income securities at book value (principal plus interest accrued to date). Through the use of book value accounting, there is no immediate recognition of investment gains and losses on the fund's securities. Instead, gains and losses are recognized over time by periodically adjusting the interest rate credited to the fund under the Contracts. However, while the fund seeks to preserve your principal investment, it is possible to lose money by investing in this fund. The Contracts provide for the payment of certain withdrawals and exchanges at book value during the terms of the Contracts. In order to maintain the Contract issuers' promise to pay such withdrawals and exchanges at book value, the Contracts subject the fund and its participants to certain restrictions. For example, withdrawals prompted by certain events (e.g., layoffs, early retirement windows, spin-offs, sale of a division, facility closings, plan terminations, partial plan terminations, changes in laws or regulations) may be paid at the market value of the fund's securities, which may be less than your book value balance.

Certain investment options offered by your plan (e.g., money market funds, short term bond funds, certain asset allocation/lifecycle funds and brokerage window) may be deemed by the Contract issuers to "compete" with this fund. The terms of the Contracts prohibit you from making a direct exchange from this fund to such competing funds. Instead, you must first exchange to a non-competing fund for 90 days. While these requirements may seem restrictive, they are imposed by the Contract issuers as a condition for the issuer's promise to pay certain withdrawals and exchanges at book value.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who seeks a slightly higher yield over the long term than is offered by money market funds, but who is willing to accept slightly more investment risk.
- Someone who is interested in balancing an aggressive portfolio with an investment that seeks to provide stability of price.

Footnotes:

- The investment option is a stable value fund. It is managed by Fidelity Management Trust Company. This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the fund.
- This fund is a commingled pool of the Fidelity Group Trust for Employee Benefit Plans. Only qualified, participant-directed, defined contribution plans may invest in the fund.
- This investment option is not a mutual fund.
- Management Fee includes the costs associated with managing the investments in the pool. The management fee does not include the wrap contract fees, which are paid to third party wrap providers and do not result in any additional compensation to Fidelity. The wrap contract fees are not separately stated but are included in the Expense Ratio and do reduce returns.
- Expense Ratio (Gross) includes management and wrap contract fees. For certain investments, it may also include distribution fees. Please note that the Gross and Net Expense Ratio are the same for this investment.

Transamerica High Yield Bond I

VRS Code: 889050

Fund Objective: The investment seeks a high level of current income by investing in high-yield debt securities.

Fund Strategy: The fund normally invests at least 80% of its net assets (plus the amount of borrowings, if any, for investment purposes) in high-yield bonds. It normally invests primarily in U.S. securities. Junk bonds are high-risk debt securities rated below investment grade.

Fund Risk: The fund may invest in lower-quality debt securities that involve greater risk of default or price changes due to potential changes in the credit quality of the issuer. In general the bond market is volatile, and fixed income securities carry interest rate risk. (As interest rates rise, bond prices usually fall, and vice versa. This effect is usually more pronounced for longer-term securities.) Fixed income securities also carry inflation risk and credit and default risks for both issuers and counterparties. Unlike individual bonds, most bond funds do not have a maturity date, so avoiding losses caused by price volatility by holding them until maturity is not possible. Additional risk information for this product may be found in the prospectus or other product materials, if available.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone interested in a bond fund that provides the potential for both current income and share-price appreciation.
- Someone who is seeking to complement his or her core bond holdings with a bond investment that seeks higher returns from riskier bonds, and who can tolerate higher risk.

Footnotes:

- This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.
- The analysis on these pages may be based, in part, on adjusted historical returns for periods prior to the class's actual inception of 11/30/2009. These calculated returns reflect the historical performance of the oldest share class of the fund, with an inception date of 06/14/1985, adjusted to reflect the fees and expenses of this share class (when this share class's fees and expenses are higher.) U.S. Debt Index Fund T

Fund Objective: The Fund is an "index fund" that seeks investment results that correspond generally to the price and yield performance, before fees and expenses, of its Underlying Index (defined below).

Fund Strategy: The Fund is a collective investment trust maintained and managed by BlackRock Institutional Trust Company, N.A. ("BTC").

The Fund shall be invested and reinvested primarily in a portfolio of debt securities with the objective of approximating as closely as practicable the total rate of return of the market for debt securities as defined by the Bloomberg U.S. Aggregate Bond Index (the "Underlying Index"). BTC uses a "passive" or indexing approach to try to achieve the Fund's investment objective. Unlike many funds, the Fund does not try to outperform the index it seeks to track and does not seek temporary defensive positions when markets decline or appear overvalued.

BTC uses a representative sampling indexing strategy to manage the Fund. "Representative sampling" is an indexing strategy that involves investing in a representative sample of securities that collectively has an investment profile similar to the Underlying Index. The securities selected are expected to have, in the aggregate, investment characteristics (based on factors such as market capitalization and industry weightings), fundamental characteristics (such as return variability and yield) and liquidity measures similar to those of the Underlying Index. The Fund may or may not hold all of the securities that are included in the Underlying Index.

When deemed appropriate by BTC and permissible under applicable law and the Fund's investment strategies, BTC may invest all or any portion of the Fund in one or more futures contracts, forward contracts or other similar assets for the purpose of acting as a temporary substitute for investment in securities, as well as in other investment vehicles or investment company shares, including shares of investment companies advised or subadvised by an affiliate of BTC.

The Fund may invest through one or a series of collective investment trusts maintained and managed by BTC.

In the event of a conflict between this summary description of the Fund's investment objective and principal investment strategies and the Trust Document under which the Fund was established, the Trust Document will govern. For more information related to the Fund, please see the Fund's Trust Document, Profile and most recent audited financial statements. The Fund may engage in securities lending.

Fund Risk: In general the bond market is volatile, and fixed income securities carry interest rate risk. (As interest rates rise, bond prices usually fall, and vice versa. This effect is usually more pronounced for longer-term securities.) Fixed income securities also carry inflation risk and credit and default risks for both issuers and counterparties. Unlike individual bonds, most bond funds do not have a maturity date, so avoiding losses caused by price volatility by holding them until maturity is not possible. Additional risk information for this product may be found in the prospectus or other product materials, if available.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking potential returns primarily in the form of interest income rather than through an increase in share price.
- Someone who is seeking to diversify an equity portfolio with a more conservative investment option.

- The investment option is a collective investment trust. It is managed by BlackRock. This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the fund.
- The Bloomberg U.S. Aggregate Bond Index is an unmanaged market value-weighted index for U.S. dollar denominated investment-grade fixed-rate debt issues, including government, corporate, asset-backed, and mortgage-backed securities with maturities of at least one year.
- This investment option is not a mutual fund.
- The inception date of this Pool was 10/01/2001. The earliest share class of this Pool had an inception date of 06/06/1996. Performance between the inception date of the earliest share class and the inception date of this Pool was calculated by subtracting this Pool's management fee and the Pool's net administrative expenses for that period from the Pool's gross performance.

U.S. Treasury Inflation Protected Securities Fund KVRS Code: 826954Fund Objective: The Fund is an "index fund" that seeks investment results that correspond generally to the price and yield performance, before fees and expenses, of its Underlying Index.Fund Strategy: The Fund is a collective investment trust maintained and managed by BlackRock Institutional Trust Company, N.A. ("BTC").

The Fund shall be invested and reinvested primarily in a portfolio of debt securities with the objective of closely approximating the total rate of return for all outstanding United States Treasury Inflation Protected Securities with a maturity of one year or greater, as defined by the Bloomberg U.S. Treasury Inflation Protected Securities (TIPS) Index (Series-L) (the "Underlying Index"). BTC uses a "passive" or indexing approach to try to achieve the Fund's investment objective. Unlike many funds, the Fund does not try to outperform the index it seeks to track and does not seek temporary defensive positions when markets decline or appear overvalued.

BTC uses a replication indexing strategy to manage the Fund. Replication is an indexing strategy in which the Fund invests in substantially all of the securities in its Underlying Index in approximately the same proportions as in the Underlying Index.

When deemed appropriate by BTC and permissible under applicable law and the Fund's investment strategies, BTC may invest all or any portion of the Fund in one or more futures contracts, forward contracts or other similar assets for the purpose of acting as a temporary substitute for investment in securities, as well as in other investment vehicles or investment company shares, including shares of investment companies advised or subadvised by an affiliate of BTC.

The Fund may invest through one or a series of collective investment trusts maintained and managed by BTC.

In the event of a conflict between this summary description of the Fund's investment objective and principal investment strategies and the Trust Document under which the Fund was established, the Trust Document will govern. For more information related to the Fund, please see the Fund's Trust Document, Profile and most recent audited financial statements.

The Fund may engage in securities lending.

Fund Risk: The interest payments of TIPS are variable, they generally rise with inflation and fall with deflation. In general the bond market is volatile, and fixed income securities carry interest rate risk. (As interest rates rise, bond prices usually fall, and vice versa. This effect is usually more pronounced for longer-term securities.) Fixed income securities also carry inflation risk and credit and default risks for both issuers and counterparties. Unlike individual bonds, most bond funds do not have a maturity date, so avoiding losses caused by price volatility by holding them until maturity is not possible. Additional risk information for this product may be found in the prospectus or other product materials, if available.

Fund short term trading fees: None

Who may want to invest:

- Someone who is seeking potential returns primarily in the form of interest income and who can tolerate more frequent changes in the size of income distributions than those usually found with more conservative bond funds.
- Someone who is seeking to supplement his or her core fixed-income holdings with a bond investment that is tied to changes in inflation.

Footnotes:

- The investment option is a collective investment trust. It is managed by BlackRock. This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the fund.
- The Bloomberg U.S. TIPS Index is an unmanaged index designed to represent securities that protect against adverse inflation and provide a minimum level of real return. To be included in this index, bonds must have cash flows linked to an inflation index, be sovereign issues denominated in U.S. currency, and have more than one year to maturity, and, as a portion of the index, total a minimum amount outstanding of 100 million U.S. dollars.
- This investment option is not a mutual fund.
