

17-011 QA PRODUCT RECALL – CALPHALON CUTLERY KNIVES DUE TO LACERATION HAZARD

Date: 27 February 2017

Recall: # 17-009

Scope: Exchange Worldwide Retail Stores and e-Commerce

Calphalon Cutlery has identified a quality issue with several of their knives.

Hazard: The blade can break during use, posing a laceration hazard.

Description: This recall involves the following models.

UPC	Item Description
016853054558	17 pc Contemporary block set
016853062492	12 pc Classic Self Sharpening block set
016853035595	2 pc Contemporary set
016853062447	15 pc Contemporary block set

Incidents/Injuries: Calphalon has received 27 reports of finger or hand lacerations; including four injuries requiring stitches. In addition, the firm has received about 3,150 reports of broken knives.

Remedy: Consumers should immediately stop using the knives and visit supplier website for information on how to obtain a replacement

Sold at: Major US retailers and CONUS AND OCONUS Exchange stores

Importer(s): CALPHALON CORP, Chicago, IL

Manufactured in: China

Consumer Contact: www.calphalon.com/en-US/recall

Quality Assurance Management

Support Group, Merchandise Directorate